Sabrina Hackett's Derby Divas™ game helps women with cancer

Playing Derby Divas game helps cause

Derby Divas™ creator Sabrina Hackett brought her lighthearted horse race-themed game to Rodes For Him and For Her on April 16 for the third annual Derby Divas event to kick off 2009 Derby festivities. Developed to benefit women touched by breast cancer, the game celebrates fun and friendship.

Thanks to Sabrina's passion to find a cure for breast cancer, more than 200 women attended the all-pink, pre-Derby event and raised $76,000 for Norton Cancer Institute. Funds will be used to provide prevention, education, community outreach and mammography screenings to underserved women.
